SMALL TOWN CHARM WITH A GLOBAL IMPACT

First established as a modest neighborhood computer repair shop, we found our beginnings by developing close relationships with individuals and small businesses in the Louisville community. Over time, our team has quickly expanded into a group of highly-skilled engineers, technicians, and service professionals supporting small businesses and world-wide enterprises.

After many years of working with businesses throughout the Lexington community, we've decided to take our relationship to the next level. Lexington Geek is a community-focused effort backed by local professionals from the Lexington area and the resources and experience of Louisville Geek.

AS OUR CLIENTS GROW, WE GROW. IT'S THAT SIMPLE.

We view our relationships with our customers as a partnership. The shiny new toy syndrome is alive and well in our industry, but rather than advise our clients to invest in trending technologies that are undeniably impressive but drain the budget, we offer practical solutions that address your critical needs. We don't sell our clients anything we wouldn't use ourselves.

WE'RE PROUD TO CALL THEM OUR PARTNERS

Our vendor partnerships allow us to provide our clients with the highest quality of goods and services at the most advantageous pricing.
